

Malaysian Family Physician 2006. Volume 1, Number 1

1984, Volume 7, Number 3

Editorial. The role of the occupational health doctor in the Malaysian setting. Goh Chin Siew.	5
Fitness to drive. Chua Wan Tiong.	9
Occupational diseases in Malaysia: medical examination and surveillance. Lim Heng Huat.	13
Occupational respiratory diseases. JL Da Costa.	17
Occupational skin diseases. Daljit S Nagreh.	22
Occupational eye disorders. Hari Krishnan.	27
Occupational orthopaedic problems. Yeoh Poh Hong.	31
Diseases associated with exposure to metals and chemicals. Krishna Gopal Rampal.	35
Noise and light hazards in modern industry. Goh Chin Siew.	39
Occupational hazards in the electronics industry. WO Phoon.	44
Possible radiation hazards in industry. CS Chong, ES Lam.	48
The dilemma of the medical certificate. Diong Ko Ing.	53
Employee health services in Malaysia: social security – present and future. R Mahathevan.	56
Evaluation of insertion difficulties using the Nova T intrauterine device. Frank EH Tan.	60
Vasectomy as a method of contraception. V Sivanesaratnam.	64
Where have all the moles gone? Dilip K Sen.	67
College news.	69
Thalassaemia in Singapore: problems and solutions. Wong Hock Boon.	75
Problems in prenatal diagnosis. Wong Hock Boon.	87
Medicine in Malaya in the pre-war years. AWE Moreira.	93
Some doctors in politics and in parliament (Part I). Tan Chee Khoon.	98
One family's courage. Ho Tak Ming.	103
Letter to the editor. Moreira's sporting days. Phon Kah Heng, ME Mathieu.	110
Letter to the editor. Phenylbutazone. Francis Tan.	110
Book review.	112
Family practice around the world.	114